Vocabulary

mystery science

Lesson: Why are polar bears white?

camouflage	to blend in with the place around you experiment	a test used to discover new information about a question habitat	the place where an animal or plant lives model	a pretend version of something that scientists use when the real thing is too big, small, or complicated to work with predator	an animal that hunts and eats other animals prey	an animal that is hunted by and eaten by another animal survive	to stay alive