Vocabulary

mystery science

Lesson: How much salt is in the ocean?

dissolve	when two substances mix together and it looks like one of them disappears, such as when sugar mixes into tea evaporation	the process of a liquid changing to a gas evidence	information that can be used to support or reject an idea graph	an image that helps you understand the number or amount of something measure	to describe something using numbers that can be compared mixture	a combination of two or more things model	a pretend version of something that scientists use when the real thing is too big, small, or complicated to work with ocean	a large area of salt water that covers the Earth property	something you can observe about an object or material salt water	water with salt in it, such as the ocean solution	a special kind of mixture where you cannot tell the different parts from each other