Vocabulary

mystery science

Lesson: Why don’t trees blow down in the wind?

branch	a part of a tree that grows out from the trunk and usually has leaves design	to make a plan for creating or doing something engineer	a person who uses science to come up with solutions to problems invent	to create something new, often an object or a way of doing something leaf	a part of a plant that is often flat and green root	a part of a plant that is usually under the ground shade	a dark, cool place that is not directly in the sunlight structure	the specific form and shape of something tree	a type of plant that has a trunk and branches trunk	the thick middle part of a tree umbrella	a cover that protects from rain or sunlight wind	moving air