Vocabulary

Lesson: How long can people (and animals) survive in outer space?

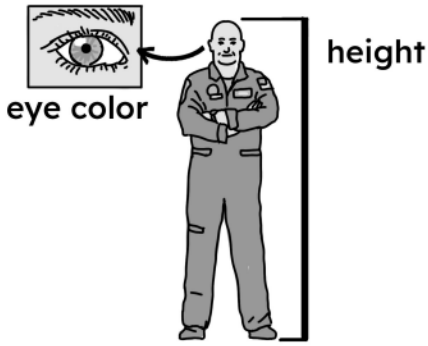
mystery science

environment

a living thing's surroundings, including other living things and non-living parts like soil, water, and air

mystery science

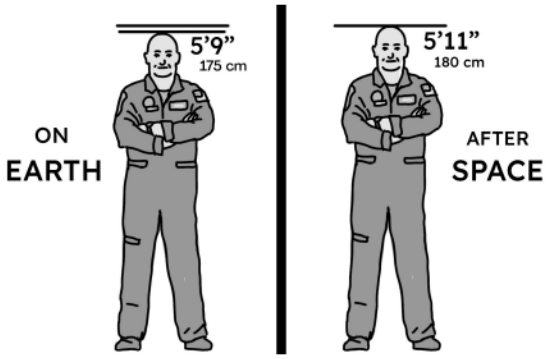
trait



something you can observe about a living thing, such as a person's eye color or their height

mystery science

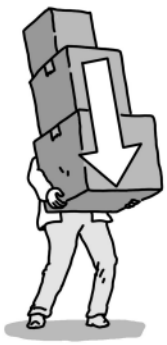
acquired trait



a trait that can change based on the environment

mystery science

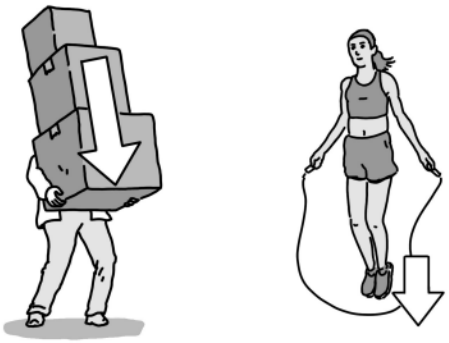
force



a push or a pull

mystery science

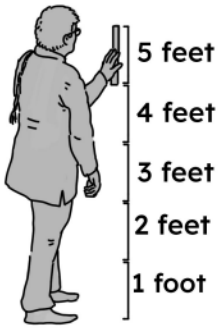
gravity



an invisible force that pulls any object down, toward the Earth

mystery science

measure



mystery science

to find out the size or amount of something using a tool predict

mystery science

to guess what will happen based on things you know