

Snow Monkeys

These monkeys live in northern Japan, where it snows in the winter. No other monkey lives in such a cold place!

5

4

Do you think the ravens help each other? Explain.

List at least two things the ravens did. (You can write more if you noticed more.)

Raven Field Notes:

Snow Monkey Field Notes:

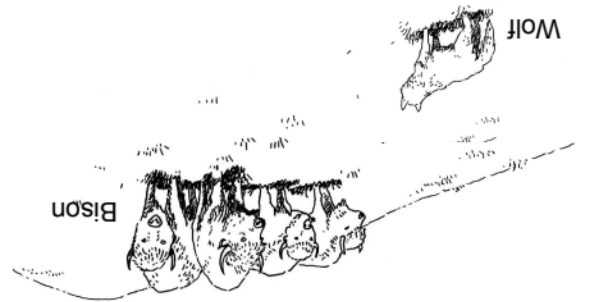

A

Describe what the snow monkeys do.

Do you think the snow monkeys help each other? Explain.

6

7

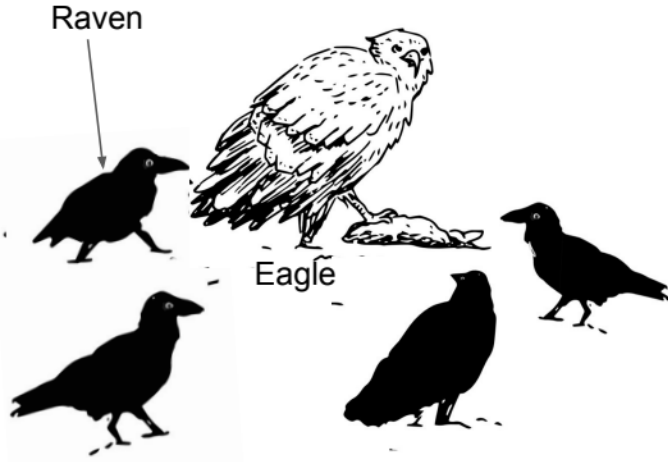

Bison eat grass, leaves, and twigs. Some people call these animals buffalo. One bison can weigh more than 5 football players.

Bison

Ravens

Ravens live in flocks of many birds.
Ravens will eat almost anything they can find—or steal!

3

2

Meerkat Field Notes:

List at least two things the meerkats did.
(You can write more if you noticed more.)

Do you think the meerkats help each other? Explain.

Bison Field Notes:

B

List at least two things the bison did. (You can write more if you noticed more.)

Do you think bison help each other? Explain.

8

6

Here's what I noticed:

Here are ways that I saw animals that live in groups help each other:

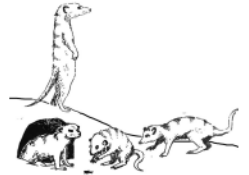

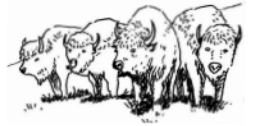

Meerkats

Families of meerkats live together in underground burrows. They come out to search for insects and small lizards to eat.

1

Suppose your friend told you, "Animals live in groups just to be with their friends. It's not like they do it to stay alive." Do you agree or disagree? Explain.

10

Field Journal

My Name: _____

Date: _____

staple

staple

mystery science
Why do dogs wag their tails?